

SU-PER[®] Mineral Oil

Intestinal Lubricant!

Supports normal intestinal evacuation. A gentle, non-nutritive intestinal lubricant. Refined to render it tasteless and odorless. Not absorbed and non-fattening. Does not increase body heat.

SU-PER[®] Mineral Oil is pure, white mineral oil used as an intestinal lubricant in horses. It acts as a laxative by lubricating fecal material and the intestinal mucosa. It also reduces reabsorption of water from the gastrointestinal tract, thereby increasing fecal bulk and decreasing intestinal transit time.

SU-PER[®] Mineral Oil supports normal intestinal evacuation in instances of impaction or constipation. It can also be given alone or mixed with psyllium to clear sand from the intestinal tract if sand colic is a concern.

Mineral Oil can also be used as a hoof conditioner, and can help provide moisture to dry, brittle hooves.

SU-PER[®] Mineral Oil is refined to render it tasteless and odorless, it is not absorbed, and does not increase body heat. Give 1 pint per 1,200 pounds body weight, or as directed by a veterinarian. Use of a nasogastric tube for administration may be necessary, as horses rarely will ingest large amounts of mineral oil voluntarily. If you have any concerns about how to properly give mineral oil, speak to your veterinarian.
